

Privacy Policy

Information on personal data processing

Dear User,

in order to allow you the access to the pages on the “proteinelectrostatics.org” website (hereinafter also “Website”), we kindly ask you to read the rules we apply for management of personal data in accordance with the provisions of the European Regulation 2016/679 (“GDPR”).

The disclosure is provided only for the above-mentioned Website and not for other websites that may be accessed by the user through links to other domains.

Therefore, following consultation of the Website, data may be processed on persons identified or identifiable, for which we provide the following information:

Data Controller

The Data Controller for data provided by users is the Fondazione Istituto Italiano di Tecnologia (hereinafter “IIT”), based in Genova, Via Morego n. 30 – phone +39 010 28961.

Data Protection Officer

The IIT Data Protection Officer can be contacted at the email address: dpo@iit.it

Purposes and Legal bases of data processing

The purposes of data processing refer to Internet browsing on the Website and to the possible sending of data related to your person for the request of information by filling out specific forms.

The processing of your personal data is based on the following purposes and legal bases:

Without your prior consent for the purposes of service and, in particular, to:

- perform the contract and/or pre-contractual commitments:
 - satisfy the information request;
 - use the Website;
 - provide appropriate technical assistance.

- pursuit a legitimate interest of the Data controller:
 - manage and maintain the Website;
 - prevent or detect fraudulent activity or harmful abuse to the Website;
 - exercise the rights of the Data controller, for example the right of defence in court.

- comply with legal obligations:
 - comply with the obligations provided for by laws, regulations, EU regulations, orders and prescriptions of the competent authorities.

With your prior consent for the purposes of:

- manage your participation to the proteinelectrostatics events/conferences;
- receive the invitation to the next European “Protein Electrostatics Conference”;
- take photographs and/or videos and/or audio recordings of your contribution during the events/conferences.

Consent and withdrawal

You can withdraw in any time your consent for:

- manage your participation to the proteinelectrostatics events/conferences
- receive the invitation to the next European “Protein Electrostatics Conference”
- take photographs and/or videos and/or audio recordings of your contribution during the events/conferences

sending an e-mail to dpo@iit.it

Types of data processed

Browsing data

The IT systems and software procedures for operation of the Website acquire, during normal operation, some personal data the transmission of which is implicit in the use of Internet communication protocols.

This information is not collected in order to be associated with identified parties concerned, but that by its very nature could, through processing and association with data held by third parties, allow identifying users.

This category of data includes IP addresses or domain names of computers used by users connecting to the website, URI (Uniform Resource Identifier) addresses of the resources requested, the time of the request, the method used to submit the request to the server, the size of the file obtained in response, the numerical code indicating the status of the response from the server (successful, error, etc.) and other parameters relating to the operating system and the user’s IT environment.

These data are only used to verify Website’s correct operation and they are deleted after processing. The data could be used to ascertain liability in case of hypothetical computer crimes against the website.

Data provided voluntarily by the user

The optional, explicit and voluntary sending of e-mail to the addresses indicated on the Website involves the subsequent acquisition of the sender’s address required to reply to information requests, and any other personal data included in the message. Personal data can also be acquired through the compilation of contact request forms.

Methods of processing and storage of data

The data may be processed either by electronic means or paper for the time strictly necessary to achieve the purposes for which they were collected, complying with the rules on protection of personal data, including those related to data security, to prevent data loss, illegal or incorrect use and unauthorized access.

Mandatory or optional nature of providing data

The provision of data for the above-mentioned purposes is mandatory. Refusal to provide such data makes it impossible to follow up on the processing.

Categories of recipients of personal data

Any data provided by users will be disclosed only to IIT's Staff who manage the Website.

However, the obligation of IIT to communicate the data to the Judicial Authority remains unaffected, whenever a specific request is made in this regard, even without your consent, for the above-mentioned purposes to control bodies, law enforcement agencies or the judiciary that will process them, at their express request, as independent Data controllers for institutional purposes and/or by law during investigations and controls. The data may also be disclosed to third parties (for example, partners, professionals, agents, etc.), as independent Data controllers, for the performance of instrumental activities to the above-mentioned purposes.

Rights of the data subject

The subjects to which the personal data refer have the right to obtain at any time confirmation of the existence of such data and to know the content and origin verify its accuracy or request its integration or updating, or correction (Article 12 of GDPR).

In particular, the interested subject has the right to obtain indication on (Article 15 of GDPR):

- the origin of personal data;
- purposes and methods of treatment;
- the procedure applied in case of treatment made with electronic means;
- the identification data of the manager, of responsible and representative persons appointed under Article 5, paragraph 2 of GDPR;
- the subjects or categories of subjects to whom the data may be communicated or that may become aware of them, as appointed representative in the State territory, or as managers or appointees.

The interested subject has the right to obtain:

- a. update, rectification or, when interested, integration of data (Article 16 of GDPR);
- b. the cancellation, anonymization or blocking of data processed unlawfully, including data whose storage is not required in relation to the purposes for which the data were collected or subsequently processed (Article 17 of GDPR);
- c. certification that the operations under letters a) and b) have been notified, also regarding their content, to those to whom the data were communicated or made known, except where such compliance is impossible or involves a manifestly disproportionate use of means with respect to the protection of this right.